Ron & Linda Wilson—Missionaries to India

Sun. Feb. 21 10:30 AM

Our hearts were broken to realize there are so many destitute children in the world—children abandoned by friends and family. In 1998 God opened a door which allowed us to serve as Missionary Ambassadors. We travel to India, Uganda, and Cuba from our home base in Des Moines, Iowa. Our work has been generously supported by Open Bible Churches and members for all these years. This has allowed us to build both churches and orphanages. We have built 115 churches; more are under construction. There are 15 orphanages in southern India, 4 in Uganda, and several feeding kitchens in Cuba. Ongoing monthly support for these projects is part of our mission.

In India, our goal is to dig a freshwater well with each church we build. We have dug 51 wells so far. Each church can then be used for a community center and a source of free water for villagers. Contaminated water is one of the biggest problems facing rural communities in India, so this act of generosity by Indian Christians makes for effective outreach. In India and Uganda, the orphanages provide both physical and spiritual support for many “throw away” and destitute children. We also supply cows, goats and chickens. This provides food as well as a small income with the milk and eggs.

In India, contributed funds made possible the start-up of a commercial bakery, which will eventually provide employment and income.

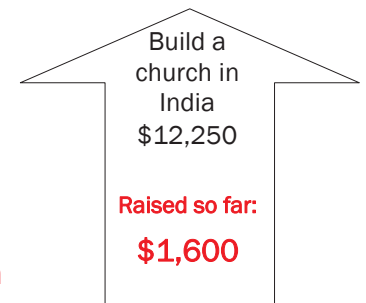

It is our goal to continue the work of the Great Commission and bring the Gospel to as many people as possible by aiding pastors, and members of the churches in India, Africa and Cuba. Ron & Linda Wilson
